

off on nat. We were supposed to hit a gasoline storage there. But I think we ended up bombing the city of ~~Mann~~ Saarbrücken. The flak was pretty accurate. We got a big hole in the Bombay.

Mission No 10 August 13,

Today was really a easy mission No 3 took care no fighters saw. We bombed a little island off from St Malo. There were some guns keeping our troops out of St Malo. It was really hit. Milk Run.

Mission No 11 August 14, 1944
The target for today was a railroad bridge at St Quentin France. It might be classified as a milk run. We made two runs on the target before we dropped our bombs. But when ~~we~~ we did we knocked it out. No fighters and very little flak.

Mission No 12 August 16, 1944

Today was really a tough mission we did not get hit but we saw three planes go down and a lot of the planes got shot up. We hit. Dessau Brewery & Bagg Bowl factory.

NO 13

August 27, 1944

Today we started out for La Ploce just 15 miles from Berlin. But our luck would have it we were recalled I thank God. I think that this would have been a rough mission. We saw a little flock. No fighters. I do not know for sure weather we have credit for this mission.

NO 14

Sept 8, 1944

Today we were to bomb the railroad yards near Karlsruhe Germany. The weather was really bad.

we had to fly at 26000 feet and it was 42 below zero. We could not get our bomb bay doors open because they were frozen up. Coming back we were very low and it was a very good ride. No hits from front and no fighters seen.

NO 15

Sept 9, 1944

Today we went to bomb a rail road yard at Mainz. The clouds were so bad that we could not see where our bombs hit. But we think that they hit.

We did not get any flock hals. It was same there but far away. No fighters. Pretty easy mission.

No 16. Sept 12 1944.

Today was a air refueling at Hanover Germany. We were really sweating this one out because they went there yesterday and got shot up pretty bad. Today it was not such a bad mission. The flock was not very close and no
fighters. No flock hals.

Mission No 17. Sept 17, 44.

Today was a target of some kind at Berlin

Germany. It was not so very bad. It was a pretty long mission.

The flock was not
so very bad and no
fighters.

Mission No 18. Oct 7.

Today we bombed
a tank plant at Cassel
Germany. The mission was not so bad but
we got air hydraulic
line broke and had to crash land.

Mission No. 19 Oct 12.

Today we bombed a town in Germany. We were supposed to bomb
a airfield but did not

Because of weather conditions
The name of the town was Asnabruch. The valley did a good job. Not much flock and no fighters.

Mission No 20, Oct 18, 44

Today we went to a target at Calagne Germany. Bay was
it a miss the lead
ship got lost and
we got shot up pretty
bad. The top was shot
out of the nose turret
but no one hurt. Bay
that was the closest
flock I believe I ever saw. No fighters.

Mission No 21, 19 Oct 44

Today we were going
to bomb a town
called Mainz Germany
I don't know what was
there. we had to turn back just before the target because of engine trouble. a little flock
and no fighters.

Mission 22 26 Nov 1944

Today we were going
to bomb a oil refinery
at Hannover Germany.
Everything went off fine
until about two minutes before the target we got hit by fighters and they came in fast.
